

Oak Hill Camps and Recreation SUMMER 2021

With spring just weeks away and as restrictions begin to lift, we want to outline what is being offered by Oak Hill Camps and Recreation this summer!

Throughout the year we carefully followed and evaluated all regulations. We conducted risk assessments with each change to see how we could operate our traditional camp program or possibly a modified version. We diligently tracked CDC guidelines, travel bans, Governors orders, and vaccine distribution to determine their impact on our ability to safely care for our beloved campers.

In February, when it was still unknown if the State of Connecticut would allow residential camps to operate, we were forced to shift our focus to plan a day program in an effort to offer some kind of in person programming this year. Unfortunately, the responses told us overwhelmingly that a day option would not be feasible for our campers and camper families for a variety of reasons. We heard loud and clear that folks would prefer to wait until a residential program was available again.

Unfortunately, despite the exciting announcement that residential camps are able to open this summer, there is too much that goes into the planning of our specialized residential program than we could safely put in place before the start of the summer. The safety of our campers and staff remains our top priority while we navigate our way through what is hopefully the last few months of this very trying time.

That said, it is our intention to begin planning as soon as possible and operate our traditional residential camp program for the summer of 2022!
